What are cookies?

A cookie is a text-only string of information that a website transfers to the cookie file of the browser on your computer’s hard disk so that the website can remember who you are. Cookies can help a website to arrange content to match your preferred interests more quickly. Some cookies may allow us to recreate and replay user sessions on our Sites. Most major websites use cookies.

A cookie will typically contain the name of the domain from which the cookie has originated; the “lifetime” of the cookie; and a value, usually a randomly generated unique number.

MONAT uses two types of cookies on our Sites:

- Session Cookies, which are temporary cookies that remain in the cookie file of your browser until you leave the site.
- Persistent Cookies, which remain in the cookie file of your browser for much longer (though how long will depend on the lifetime of the specific cookie).

How are cookies used on this site and what information is collected?

Session Cookies

These are used for the following purposes:

- to help us recognise you as a unique visitor (using a number) when you return to our website;
- to allow us to tailor content or advertisements to match your preferred interests or to avoid showing you the same adverts repeatedly;
- to compile aggregated statistics that allow us to understand how users use our site and to help us improve the structure of our website;
- to identify and resolve user experience issues and improve website operations; and
- to resolve member inquiries and help ensure compliance with our member rules.

Persistent Cookies

These are used for the following purposes:

- to help us recognise you as a unique visitor (using a number) when you return to our website;
- to allow us to tailor content or advertisements to match your preferred interests or to avoid showing you the same adverts repeatedly;
- to compile aggregated statistics that allow us to understand how users use our site and to help us improve the structure of our website;
- to identify and resolve user experience issues and improve website operations; and
- to resolve member inquiries and help ensure compliance with our member rules.

Third Party Cookies

Third parties may also serve cookies via the Sites. These are used for the following purposes:

- to tailor content to your preferences;
- to count the number of users of our site; and
- to provide security within shopping baskets or transactions.

Web Beacons

Some of our web pages may contain electronic images known as web beacons (sometimes known as clear GIFs) that allow us to count users who have visited these pages. Web beacons collect only limited information which includes a cookie number; time and date of a page view; and a description of the page on which the web beacon resides. We may also carry web beacons placed by third party advertisers. These beacons are only used to track the effectiveness of a particular campaign.

How do I disable and enable cookies?

You have the ability to accept or decline cookies by modifying the settings in your browser. However, you may not be able to use all the interactive features of our site if cookies are disabled. Should you wish to be alerted before a cookie is accepted on your hard disk, guideline instructions follow below:

- Cookies settings in Internet Explorer
- Cookies settings in Firefox
- Cookies settings in Chrome
- Cookies settings in Safari web and iOS.

Deleting cookies

You can easily delete any cookies that have been installed in the cookie folder of your browser. For example, if you are using Microsoft Windows Explorer:

- Open 'Windows Explorer'
- Click on the 'Search' button on the tool bar
- Type "cookies" into the search box for 'Folders and Files'
- Select 'My Computer' in the 'Look In' box
- Click 'Search Now'
- Double click on the folders that are found
- 'Select' any cookie file
- Hit the 'Delete' button on your keyboard

If you are not using Microsoft Windows Explorer, then you should select "cookies" in the "Help" function for information on where to find your cookie folder.

What are my rights with respect to my personal information?

Depending on the applicable law, you may have various rights in respect to your personal information, such as a right of access, rectification, restriction of or, objection to processing of your personal data (including processing for direct marketing), and portability to another controller and erasure. Some of our sites allow you to review and update your personal information. Where this function is not available and for assistance within respect to other personal information rights, please contact a MONAT Data Protection Officer at the information provided below.

Please note that these rights are subject to limitations set out in applicable law.

If you do not want to receive advertising by e-mail or SMS, you will be given an opportunity to opt out of the communications you receive.

If you have additional questions about this Cookies Policy and our practices or if you have complaints about MONAT's use of your personal information, please contact us at:

Can MONAT change this Cookies Policy?

We recommend that you visit Our Site periodically to be aware of the latest version of this Cookies Policy.

Revisions

This policy may be revised and updated by MONAT from time to time in MONAT's sole and absolute discretion. All such changes shall be effective once published by MONAT.

Governing law, jurisdiction and venue

This Site is created and controlled by us in the State of Florida. The laws of the State of Florida govern these Terms of Use, without giving effect to any principles of conflicts of laws. You agree that any action at law or in equity arising out of or relating to these Terms of Use or the Site shall be filed, and that venue properly lies, only in the State or Federal courts located in Miami-Dade County, State of Florida, and you hereby consent and submit to the personal jurisdiction of such courts for the purposes of litigating any such action.
